NEXT WEEK'S READINGS Acts 5:27-32, 40-41; Apoc 5:11-14; Jn 21:1-19

SHEPHERD'S CORNER

We pray this Sunday especially for those who lost their lives, were wounded and their families in the bombings in Sri Lanka on Easter Sunday while in church praying. It was a horrific act of violence. We united with our local parishioners from Sri Lanka, at a memorial Mass on Saturday morning. When going to print I had not heard if anyone had a loved one directly affected. We pray for God's mercy upon the perpetrators - not an easy prayer to pray, but Jesus has shown us that this is the only path to new life. Those who died have become in effect, martyrs of their faith. May they intercede from heaven especially for those badly wounded.

God's blessing Fr Emil

DIVINE MERCY SUNDAY - TODAY

The Divine Mercy image was given to us by Jesus through St Faustina. It is really important because St John Paul II revealed these are the times of God's Divine Mercy. It was made more evident when Pope Francis announced the extraordinary "Jubilee Year of Mercy" in 2016. The much graced Divine Mercy Novena began on Good Friday. Pamphlets are on the pews, for those who would like to still take part or find out more about Divine Mercy.

Divine Mercy Holy Hour will be held at this Sunday from 3 - 4pm (with confessions from 2:30pm). This Holy Hour is exceptionally special, with Jesus promising many graces for those who attend.
